HELLO, YOU GUARDIANS OF DEMONS, YOU PARENTS OF STUDENTS,

This week, we held our Meeting on Tuesday, made Tortilla Chips in the air fryer and paired them with Nacho Cheese on Wednesday, Thursday we played Sprosty Ball in the gym and went outside to the playground, and Friday was a nice chill day of Store and Hide-n-Seek.

NO NEW TAXES (But, perhaps, Highway Robbery?)

At the meeting on Tuesday, the students immediately voted down Taxes (although, I stuttered again when they asked what they would get for their taxes, and had a “driving-to-work” thought about “Why not offer a lottery of sorts?”)

The students tied in voting whether not to do anything or to “halve everyone’s points equally.” BUT, another suggestion was brought to the fold of “why don’t we just erase everyone’s points and start the system back to zero?”

Who is this anarchistic seventh grader? Why such want to destroy the system?

“I don’t have any points anyway,” she shrugged.

It will be put to a vote next Monday.

CLUBS

The one thing this newsletter has been failing you on is keeping you informed about all the exciting extracurricular clubs Project Link has to offer.

Specifically, at our site, we offer:

Progress with Chess, Link Ink (drawing,) Shake & Make (cooking,)

Youth Rugby, Chinese, and Girls on the Run.

Keep reading these newsletters and we will be sure to inform you when new sign-ups for these clubs occur!

SPRING BREAK

Have you signed up for Spring Break Link?

We have begun doing field trips for our All-Day Links, and so our All-Days will cap out at about 50 students, and they fill up fast. There are fun field trips planned for every day of Spring Break that are included in the price of admission.

To me, Field Trips are one of the best things Link provides—Take. Advantage.

Until next week!
